Cookies Policy

Introduction

Our website uses cookies.

Insofar as those cookies are not strictly necessary for the provision of our website and services, we will ask you to consent to our use of cookies when you first visit our website.

This Cookie Policy explains what cookies are, what types of cookies are placed on your device when you visit our website and how we use them.

About cookies

A cookie is a file containing an identifier (a string of letters and numbers) that is sent by a web server to a web browser and is stored by the browser. The identifier is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server.

Cookies may be either "persistent" cookies or "session" cookies: a persistent cookie will be stored by a web browser and will remain valid until its set expiry date, unless deleted by the user before the expiry date; a session cookie, on the other hand, will expire at the end of the user session, when the web browser is closed.

Cookies may not contain any information that personally identifies a user, but personal data that we store about you may be linked to the information stored in and obtained from cookies.

Cookies that we use

We use cookies for the following purposes:

a)   authentication and status - we use cookies to identify you when you visit our website and as you navigate our website, and to help us determine if you are logged into our website;
b)   shopping cart - we use cookies to maintain the state of your shopping cart as you navigate our website;
c)   security - we use cookies as an element of the security measures used to protect user accounts, including preventing fraudulent use of login credentials, and to protect our website and services generally;
d)   analysis - we use cookies to help us to analyse the use and performance of our website and services; and
e)   cookie consent - we use cookies to store your preferences in relation to the use of cookies more generally.

Do we use third-party cookies?

Yes, from time to time we may use third-party providers for analytical purposes. To enable their services, these companies need to place cookies.

The providers we use are committed to building consumer awareness and establishing responsible business and data management practices and standards.

Managing cookies

Most browsers allow you to refuse to accept cookies and to delete cookies. The methods for doing so vary from browser to browser, and from version to version. You can however obtain up-to-date information about blocking and deleting cookies via these links:

a)   https://support.google.com/chrome/answer/95647 (Chrome);
b)   https://support.mozilla.org/en-US/kb/enable-and-disable-cookies-website-preferences (Firefox);
c)   https://help.opera.com/en/latest/security-and-privacy/ (Opera);
d)   https://support.microsoft.com/en-gb/help/17442/windows-internet-explorer-delete-manage-cookies (Internet Explorer);

f)   https://privacy.microsoft.com/en-us/windows-10-microsoft-edge-and-privacy (Edge).

Blocking all cookies will have a negative impact upon the usability of many websites.

If you block cookies, you will not be able to use all the features on our website.

How can you recognise our cookies?

You can find our cookies in your browser settings.

Social media cookies

To allow you to share content on social media, some features of our website use social media plug-ins (e.g., Twitter, Facebook or Instagram buttons). Depending on your social media account settings, we automatically receive information from the social media platform when you use the relevant social media button on our website.

To learn more about social media cookies, we suggest you refer to your social media platform's cookie policy and privacy policy.

How long do our cookies stay active?

The cookies we use have varying lifespans. The maximum lifespan we set on some is five years from your last visit to our website.

You can erase all cookies from your browser any time you want.
